

LA GRUA:

This long, narrow park was once the path of the first railroad in Connecticut, which carried passengers from Providence to the Borough, where they boarded steamboats for the trip across Long Island Sound. Abandoned by the railroad many years ago, it was donated to the Borough by the La Grua Family.